Protest held in Al-Hodeidah city on 25 April 2018

ICSFT stands in solidarity with thousands of Yemeni demonstrators condemning the Saudi led coalition for the assassination of Saleh al-Samad, president of Yemen's Supreme Political Council, Al-Hodeidah city. This demonstration was held to honor the late Al-Samad's call for massive demonstration against the Saudi led invaders war on Yemen. The Yemeni people have been fighting this war for the last three years and are showing that their will and commitment for their country will not be broken and will continue their fight against Saudi war.

growing protest and resistance against the support to Saudi led aggression in Yemen these western countries continue to put politics and money before the lives of innocent civilians.

Several UN humanitarian agencies have made a serious warning that “Yemen will be gripped by man-made famine – one the likes of which the world has not seen in years – if the blockade on basic supplies into the country imposed by the Saudi Arabia-led coalition is not lifted immediately”

However this call is falling on deaf ears as the Saudi’s and their allies control the discourse in Yemen; hence the dominant in action by UN and other relevant stakeholders.

The U.N. as an institution is losing its credibility due to its inefficient, self-serving and wasteful structure and policies.

Yemen should no longer be the forgotten war and we must stand in solidarity with Yemeni people to bring attention and raise awareness to the ongoing Saudi led genocidal war in the country!
